

The root word of the week is ...

Lith

The root lith comes from the Greek language. It means “stone”.

Neolithic – a term to describe the characteristics of the last phase of the Stone Age.

Monolithic – something made of one piece of stone.

Megalith – Made from one gigantic piece of stone.

Love our Language

