

The root word of the week is ...

Bio

The root bio comes from the Greek Language. It means 'life.'

Biology – the study of life; the science that deals with life processes.

Biography – the written history of a person's life.

Biodegradable – can be broken down by the actions of living things (microorganisms).

Biosphere – the part of the earth that supports life; living organisms together with their environment.

Love our Language

