

The root word of the week is ...

Matr/Mater

The root matr/mater comes from the Latin language. It means "mother".

Maternity – the state of being a mother. Also, a section of hospital care dedicated to caring for mothers and their new-born babies.

Matriarch – the female head of the family or tribe.

Matrix – the 'mother-point' from which something else develops or takes form from.

Love our Language

